CONVECTION OVEN

The Montague Company's 115A Vectaire convection oven is an excellent choice for reconstituting frozen foods or baking heavy product loads. This 115,000-btu/hour Vectaire gas oven is renowned for its fast recovery and simple controls. Montague has pioneered a better way of utilizing the Vectaire indirect or "muffled" oven heating system for its ovens. While baking, the chambers are sealed off from outside air and combustion gases so that moisture, nutrients and intensified flavors are sealed in. (800) 345-1830

TERIYAKI RECIPES

Kikkoman's recipe collection of unique ideas and tips proves that teriyaki's not just hams are made from fresh domestic pork that is specially hand trimmed for extra leanness, while allowing for extra marbling and a distinctive flavor. The roast beef, corned beef and pastrami are made using only select cuts of cap-off top rounds with proper marbling, and the corned beef and pastrami are USDA choice grade. Prosciutto is slowly aged and air-dried to ensure flavor.
